

Home Learning - WC 13.07.20 – Task 1

Your task is to create a memory scrapbook to remember what life was like during the Covid-19 lockdown. We would like you to include lots of happy memories and details of lots of lovely activities that you have done with your family.

Creating a scrapbook

Ring binder or folder – simply hole punch the things you wish to put in or slide them into some punched pockets.

Make your own – create all of your pages separately in plain paper, hole punch them and tie them together with string or treasury tags.

Pre-made scrapbook – you could buy a pre-made scrapbook, folder or box and keep all of your memories together in there.

Diary entries

This is a perfect way to record your lockdown memories. There don't have to be huge pieces of writing but should include key highlights and information from your day. You could choose your favourite day from lockdown. Why was this day your favourite? What did you enjoy so much about that day? You could add an illustration or photograph to your diary entry.

Photographs

Record lots of your favourite moments by printing out some of the photographs that you or your family have taken throughout the last 3 months. Whether it was a picnic in the garden, a picture of you completing a Joe Wicks workout or building a fort inside, printing them off will ensure you don't forget any special memories!

Make a time capsule

These really are unprecedented times that no one alive today has ever experienced before. In the future, children in schools will be learning about social distancing, lockdown and the coronavirus in their history lessons.

Time capsules are containers that hold a selection of objects/memories and they help future generations to learn about what life was like at this current time. They are often buried!

How to create your time capsule:

1. Choose your box – wooden, plastic, metal (if you're burying it, consider which material would be most suitable and the safest for the environment).
2. Collect your objects – photographs, newspapers, letters and postcards, diary, interviews with people in your house.
3. If you have chosen to bury your time capsule, you will need an adult to help you to do this! You will need to choose a suitable place and it will need to be buried deep enough to stop it being accidentally dug up in the future.

Letters to yourself

You could write a letter to yourself about your experience of the situation, your aspirations and what you would like to do after lockdown and an account of your thoughts and feelings for the future. You could even do this as a family! You could decide as a family what year/time you would like to open them before sealing them in envelopes and putting them in your scrapbook ready for the years to come.

Arts and crafts

What better way to keep all of your beautiful art creations than putting them together in a scrapbook! You could create a 'hall of fame' with the creations that you're most proud of!

Handprints

Why not decorate one of your pages with handprints of your whole family? It will give your scrapbook a personal feel.

Other ideas:

- retell your funniest stories from lockdown
- pressing flowers – add some nature to your scrapbook. Search for beautiful flowers that are full of colour to brighten up your little book of memories.
- memories of clapping for carers on a Thursday evening at 8pm
- your memories of keeping in touch with your friends and family via video calls or visiting doorsteps
- your memories of PE with Joe Wicks!
