Reading Long Term Plan

Reading is taught on a daily basis and supported through home reading. In daily reading sessions, children are taught different skills with an aim to develop a child who reads fluently, with understanding and for enjoyment.

Key concepts:

- Word Reading

These are explored through different texts and text types appropriate to the age and ability of the child.

Children are taught to apply their developing phonic knowledge to read fluently and accurately.

- Comprehension

Children are taught the skills to understand and question the texts which they are reading.

Strands

Within guided reading sessions, children are taught a range of skills in order for them to understand texts.

- Vocabulary Children are exposed to increasingly adventurous vocabulary in order to widen their knowledge and understanding.
- Inference Children are taught to draw conclusions based on their reading both explicit and implied information.
- Prediction Using prior knowledge, children are taught to predict what may happen next.
- Explain Using prior reading of the text, children are taught to explain events of the text.
- Retrieve Children are taught to retrieve information quickly and accurately.
